PROVIDENCE, R.I. BULLETIN

E. 145,796

FEB 9 1966

Intelligence Role Vital, Solys Former C.

available to the President today evaluation. had existed in 1941 "the likeli-hood of Pearl Harbor would have been much less," accord-in government intelligence work, Strategic Services "our intellipatrick Jr., Brown University political scientist and former executive director and control-as vital in Presidential decision-he said. missile "The President gets an estithe most "chilling" thought is Russian behavior," he said. to consider the possibility of a lt wasn't until World War ing to Prof. Lyman B. Kirk-said he feels criticism of this gence was rather spotty," he country's intelligence system as said. "irresponsible" is unjustified.

making the evaluation processes formation, coordinated through can War our intelligence was which are integral parts of the National Intelligence Board, such "that we sent troops to present day national intelli-resulted in President Kennedy's Cuba in winter uniforms," he gence systems in a speech besuccessful moves in the Cuban added.

fore the Providence Rotary Once it was known definitely relied on the undependable in-Not only do the CIA and the that the Russians were building telligence work on our allies, intelligence units of the Army, missile bases in Cuba, he said, the French and British. At the Navy, Defense Department, the intelligence system was able end of World War II, the Of-Atomic Energy Commission and to tell the President what the fice of Strategic Services, which others pool raw information Russians would do if the Presi-but it is routinely evaluated, dent ordered them to take the said.

Mat developed into an organi-zation employing 30,000 persons, missiles and bombers out of left a trained cadre of intelli-

If the intelligence network|ing the President without prior|telligence system developed, he said. Prior to the work of Wil-The Brown University pro-liam J. "Wild Bill" Donovan for rresponsible" is unjustified. George Washington had a "It is under the direct orders good intelligence system in the of the President, is carefully Revolutionary War but in the ler of the Central Intelligence supervised by four congressional Civil War neither the Union committees and, in my opinion, Professor Kirkpatrick stressed as vital in Presidential decision-gence experts, important files, mate as to what is likely to "It was our estimate that and overseas contacts available happen," he said adding that they would take them out, to us in constructing the presto a former intelligence officer based on a careful analysis of ent national intelligence system.

He described the present syspiece of raw information reach-II that a truly professional in tem as "constantly improving" and staffed by "extremely dedicated personnel."